

Case Study

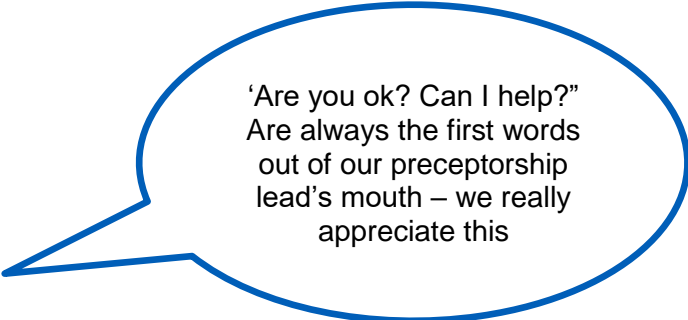

Lewisham & Greenwich NHS Trust

“My Trust participates in the Preceptorship programme by enrolling newly qualified Nurses to a structured, 1 year’s course of training; where we have to produce a presentation and a 3,000 word essay on an episode of patient care, in order to achieve 30 university credits.”

“Personally I feel that this Preceptorship programme has given me a structured regime of support, knowledge, education and skill, which has enhanced my confidence as a newly qualified Staff Nurse. Additionally, I feel privileged to have been offered the opportunity to obtain an additional 30 university credits.”

“I believe my Organisation may feel that this Preceptorship programme has possibly given them the trust in my abilities that is required by all trained members of staff.”

‘Are you ok? Can I help?’
Are always the first words out of our preceptorship lead’s mouth – we really appreciate this
